HAS ROOSEVELT MADE A PROMISE?

Smoot Supporters Drag President Into Campaign.

PLAY NEW TRICK IN PROVO

SCHEME UTILIZED TO DECEIVE WOMEN VOTERS.

THAT President Roosevelt has given Senator Smoot personal assurance that the Utah man shall retain his seat in the United States senate if Utah goes Republican, is one of the stories now being widely circulated through Republican agencies in an effort to take the state away from Parker and the Democratic state ticket.

The story is being circulated in a particularly notorious manner in Provo, the home of Smoot. At a recent meeting of women there one of them an-nounced that an appeal to her to vote; the Republican ticket had been made on this ground. In the course of the discussion that followed it developed that almost all the women present had been approached in some manner with a similar plea. In the interest of Smoot and the Republican ticket a systematic house to house canvass is being made for the purpose of persuading women voters to support the Republican ticket. By linking together the welfare of Smoot and Roosevelt those who have inaugurated this brand of politics evidently hope to secure for the Republican ticket votes that otherwould be given to the Democratic

These gentlement insist that the copy for the tickets was correct when it left them, and so far the blame for the blunder has not been fixed. There has been a great deal of caustic criticism offered in this city against wheever is responsible for the mistake, whether it be intentional or otherwise, and it may cost Manti many votes. Attempts are being made to have the regular ballots printed correctly.

A mass-meeting, called in the interests of the Ephraim side of the county seat removal proposition, which is the leading issue in the local campaign, was held in this city last night. A good sized audience of representative taxpayers was present to hear the speeches and take part in the discussions which were to follow. The meeting was addressed by C. N. Lund, president of the North Sampete stake, and Professor C. J. Jensen, a member of the faculty of the Snow academy of Ephraim. Interest in this county seat removal question overshadows all others in Sanpete county. In this city, which is conceeded to hold the balance of power as far as the vote is concerned, there has been a remarkable change of sentiment as the vote is concerned, there has been

The matter was received here Friday afternoon and a number of the pieces were given out. As soon, however, as Postmaster Braby learned of the nature of the literature contained in the envelopes he stopped its delivery, and notified the committee that no more of it could pass through his office. The committee immediately recalled all that was left and had stamps affixed. As he is in duty bound to do Mr. Braby has mailed one of the envelopes with the different pamphlets in them to the postoffice authorities at Washington, sending also a full report of the transaction.

Powers by raking over the ashes of past conflicts in the hope and for the express purpose of inducing the Mormon people to divide along religious lines and defeat the Democrat. The Mormon people of Iron county are not religious bigots. They resent such cowardly campaign work, and on the 8th of November will show their disapporval of a party that desires to obtain political nower by methods the people had hoped were buried long ago.

methods the people had hoped were buried long ago.

Mr. McGurrin's speech was well received. His witty jokes on the Democrats were greatly applauded and appreciated by most all present. But when he came to the serious part he made a break that can scarcely be credited to a man of his intelligence. He wanted to know what the Democrats had done for the people or state of Utah. He promised to vote the Democratic ticket from top to bottom and use his influence in the same direction if one single act could be pointed out that the Democratic party mad done to benefit the people of Utah, either singly or collectively. A voice was heard in the audience: "They have given Utah state-hood."

WILL BECOME DEMOCRATIC. D. H. Morris Tells About Fifth Judicial District,

D. H. Morris of St. George, Democratic candidate for district attorner of the Fifth district, was in the city yesterday for a few hours. Mr. Morris says the people of his district are showing a disposition to favor the Democratic ticket, and he believes some of the localities that went Republican at the last election will be swing around to where they belong.

Of his own campaign Mr. Morris said he was putting up the cleanest and hardest campaign he could, and was hepeful of the result. If Mr. Morris were running for office in Washington county, where his home is, there would be no doubt of the result. They like him down there, where he is best known, and where they know his integrity and ability. His public services there cover nine years as county attorney, fifteen years as city attorney, seven years as assessor and collector and two terms in the state legislature—the sessions of 1901 and 1903. At the last session Mr. Morris was leader of the Democratic minority and made an enviable record as a legislator. dicial District.

New Lie About Powers.

The interest of Smoot's Mr. Howell is being taken care of incidental to the scheme. In connection with the story of the Smoot-Roosevelt alliance, voters, particularly the women voters, are being assured that Judge Powers, if he is cleeted, will at his first opportunity introduce a bill to disfranchise all the Mormon people.

Shortly after the recent visit to Utah of General John S. Clarkson, a story to the effect that he brought from Washington a word favorable to Smoot became current in Salt' Lake and elsewhere. Following that, the Republican national committee caused to be issued a statement denying that the president was meddling in the Smoot case. With every outward manifestation of joy the statement of the national committee was given publicity in Utah by the Smoot crowd.

There is a manifest crossing of wires somewhere. If the president has given the assurance as to the latter's tenure in the Senate, the story now being passed about in Utah lacks truth. BURN AND ROB IN CITY HOMES

Their Work.

ER RIFLING IT.

Police Are Mystified.

The fire department and police are mystified about the case, and there seems to be no other theory than that the house was broken into and that while the burglars were searching through the rooms a match was dropped in the clothes closet and started the fire. While Chief Bywater was investigating the electric wiring and other possible causes, Officer Smoot was searching about the premises for a clue which might throw some light on how an entrance was made into the residence. Nothing was brought out last night from the investigation, and today the house will be cleared out and an attempt will be made to find out if anything has been stolen.

As they searched from one room to the other something else would be found missing, and as near as could be told last night over $509 worth of silverware and money had been stolen.

An entrance was made through a side window which had been left open and the screen was pryed open. After going through the house the front Goor was opened with the night latch, and when Mr. and Mrs. Sadler returned boms, they found the door wide open. As soon as found the door wide open. Theory of the Police.

It is the theory of the police that the house was entered by one man for only house was entered by one man for only the silverware that could be easily concealed was missing. Mrs. Mary Datt, who lives next door, heard the burglar in the house, but thought that it was the members of the Sadler family. She noticed that somebody was going from one room to the other and that the electric light was turned off and on as they went from one room to the other. Mrs. Sadler gave a description of a man who called at her home last Friday afternoon and claiming to be the plumbing inspector in sisted on going through her house. She showed him through her bathroom and kitchen, but she does not believe he was the plumbing inspector, and wanted to go through her house for other purposes.

"To a man the whole are of pinning." the plumbing inspector, and warted to go through her house for other purposes.

With a good description of this man the police intend to run him down and find out who he is. They are of the opinion that both burglaries were done by the same gang, and every effort will be made to apprehend them.

BAND DRAWS CROWD.

Audience at the Grand.

A large audience greeted He'd's band at the Sunday concert at the Grand theatre last evening. The programme was varied and the applause liberal. "Ah. I Have Sighed to Rest Me," and the anvil chorus from "Il Trovatore," pleased the hearers so well that the selections were repeated. W. H. Leslie, cornet, on the stage, and P. C. Stevens, baritone, in the rear of the gallery, rendered solo parts in this piece. The vocalist of the evening was Miss Agatha Berkhoel, who sang Dr. Thomas Arne's "The Lass Wita the Delicate Air," and for an encore a pretty little piece entitled "My Papa is All Dressed Up Today," Lumby's fantasia, "Dream Pictures," containing a bell solo by A. Beesley, was well received, as was also a medley of the most popular airs from A large audience greeted He'd's band where Fire Started.

After it was found out that the place had been burglarized the cause of the fire was investigated and it is believed by Chief Bywater of the fire department that the blaze was started in a small closet under the staircase and ran upthrough the partition and under the second floor. When the blaze was discovered by the neighbors it had gained considerable headway, and part of the ceiling had fallen in. The smoke was pouring out through the windows, and after fighting the flames for an hour the house was finally cleared. The loss on the house is estimated at $390, but the owner was unable to tell the damage done to the furfillure.

Police Am Smoot was detailed to the burglars, Several windows had been broken out, but it is possible that they were broken while the men were fighting the fire. Mr. Freed was called to its residence, but with the floors and ceilings burned out and the furniture thrown about the rooms, he was unable to tell what had been taken. Several beautiful pieces of cut glass were missing or had been broken by the intense heat, but there was no money or jewelry left in the house of any value.
